Cloud Archiving for Compliance

Compliance & Message Management for Pivot 360 – Regulations in the financial industry, including SEC Rule 17a-4, FINRA Rule 3110 and others, require firms to archive and monitor all electronic business communications — including messaging services such as Pivot 360. Global Relay automatically captures and preserves Pivot 360 messages, creating an indelible, evidentiary quality record and enabling regulatory compliance.

Comprehensive Supervision & Review Capabilities – The powerful, intuitive tools for message supervision and monitoring built into Global Relay Archive let compliance officers and managers perform detailed reviews of all electronic communications, including Pivot 360 messages. This allows firms to meet regulatory requirements for message monitoring and review while facilitating employee supervision and HR policy enforcement. Since all users' Pivot messages are automatically captured and archived, a perfect record is created of "who said what, when".

How it works

Daily, Global Relay automatically and securely downloads a copy of all your firm's new Pivot 360 messages. Global Relay Archive then indexes and archives each message for search and retrieval purposes. As the messages enter the Archive, they are time-date stamped, serialized and written to tamperproof storage to meet compliance requirements. Pivot 360 messages are automatically routed to a Pivot 360 system folder within Global Relay Archive for easy online access and identification. The messages can then be searched and reviewed along with any additional message types in your archive (email, instant messaging, Bloomberg®, social media etc.).
